Crew Insurance for Individuals

Finding reliable yacht crew insurance that truly protects you worldwide can be challenging. As a professional marine crew member, your career has no geographic limits — and your health insurance shouldn't either. Whether you're crossing the Atlantic, island-hopping in the Caribbean, or docked in the Mediterranean, you need comprehensive international yacht crew health insurance that travels with you. Working onboard a yacht comes with unique risks, from onboard accidents to medical emergencies in foreign ports. Protect your career, your income, and your health with specialized marine crew medical insurance designed specifically for the yachting industry.

Yacht Crew Insurance for Groups

The group insurance plans commonly act primary to the vessel's Protection & Indemnity insurance, (P&I), and cover both accidents and illnesses. P&I insurance is the yacht's liability insurance and is not a major medical insurance plan that provides worldwide coverage for accidents and illnesses. It is therefore in the owner's best interest to offer global health insurance for the crew. It reduces liability, and has a positive impact on the P&I insurance, since medical claims will be filed directly to the health insurance company.

The group plans are easy to administer, often via an online portal where crew changes can be easily process. The departing crew members who have left the employment on the yacht, are eligible to apply for an individual crew medical plan.

U.S. AND INTERNATIONAL COVERAGE FOR ANY NATIONALITIES

Our plans are designed for yacht crew from any country such as: the United States, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, the United Kingdom, Sweden, France, Spain, Italy, Germany, Croatia, Mexico and more.

No matter where assignments lead, we've got you covered!
